WOMEN'S STUDIES CENTER

DIRECTOR'S SUMMARY OF ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Year 2002-2003

The major goals of the Women's Studies Center for 2002-2003 included: (a) enhancing the excellence of the undergraduate program and expanding graduate course offerings, (b) providing leadership on women's issues in the region through education and social and cultural programs, and (c) generating and promoting scholarship and creative work in Women's Studies. The goals and highlights of the accomplishments in each area are presented below.

A complete report of the activities of the Women's Studies Center for the period June 2002 to May 2003 is contained in the following pages, including: (1) a summary of the undergraduate programs, including enrollments for the undergraduate B.A. and Certificate programs and other undergraduate student activities and accomplishments, (2) advancement activities of the WSC, and (3) the achievements of the Women's Studies faculty.

GOAL 1: To enhance the excellence of the undergraduate program and to expand graduate course offerings.

Accomplishments:

- Course offerings included 74 undergraduate and 15 graduate courses
- Student enrollment increased from 2,495 (2001-02) to 2,578 (2002-2003)
- Students majoring in Women's Studies increased from 58 to 68
- Students earning a Certificate increased from 62 to 82
- Graduated 18 students with a B.A. in Women's Studies (up from 9 in 2001-2002)
- Graduated 17 students with a Women's Studies Certificate (up from 14 in 2001-2002)
- Awarded the Gordon Scholarship, four Achievement Awards, and two Outstanding Alumna awards
- Sponsored two study abroad programs in Women's Studies (Spain and Eastern Europe)
- Developed a teaching laboratory and film library for student use
- Began offering an internship experience to undergraduates; four students participated
- Sponsored the newly founded Women's Studies Student Association (40 members)
- Sponsored the second Women's Studies Student Conference (80 attended)
- Published Making Waves, Vol. 1, based on contributions to the first WS Student Conference (80 pages)
- Sponsored travel to professional conferences for six students with donations from the Friends of Women's Studies
- Tracked the accomplishments of more than 30 alumni

GOAL 2: To provide leadership on women's issues in the region through education and social and cultural programs.

Accomplishments:

- Continued the Women of Distinction Series for the second year. Renowned scholars were featured at three events held at Books and Books, The Wolfsonian-FIU, and the Kovens Conference Center; over 300 people attended
- Received $3,500 in donations from Year 2 of the Friends of Women's Studies fundraising campaign
- Solicited donors for the Elaine Gordon Scholarship Endowment in Women's Studies (Total to date = $37,000)
- Published a FIU Women Faculty Book Club bookmark listing 100 Excellent Books by Women that was distributed to local book stores; set up a corresponding website with monthly book recommendations at www.books.fiu.edu
- Participated in activities of the Miami-Dade Women's Chamber of Commerce, the City of Miami Commission on the Status of Women, and the Women's Fund

GOAL 3: To generate and promote scholarship and creative work in Women's Studies.

Accomplishments:

- Hired a Postdoctoral Fellow of Women's Studies and History (Freeman) for 2002-03
- Hosted or cosponsored 39 events for the Women's Studies Speakers' Series
- Developed ties with Women's Studies programs in Colombia, Japan, Lithuania, Spain, and South Africa
- Faculty accomplishments of 26 faculty who reported publications, performances, and grants related to women's and gender issues included the following: 2 edited books; 8 book chapters published or in press; 13 journal articles published or in press; 5 published stories; 2 performances; 15 published book reviews; 8 grants; 26 conference presentations; and representation on 7 editorial boards and 2 grant review panels.
- The WSC nominated to faculty members for awards (FIU Research and Service)
- Eight faculty were invited speakers at 38 events on topics concerning women and gender
- Eight faculty were recognized by local or national groups for their contribution to women's issues
- The WSC Director (Rose) was interviewed by and quoted in the New York Times, the Miami Herald, and some local and national radio and television stations

The Women's Studies Center made significant gains during 2002-2003 in terms of enriching the undergraduate program, building the number of graduate courses available, promoting Women's Studies' reputation in the region, and facilitating academic research on women that is nationally and internationally recognized. Our success reflects the sustained commitment of the faculty, students, staff, and friends of Women's Studies.

Respectfully submitted,

Suzanna Rose, Ph.D., Director

Women's Studies Faculty Book Club Bookmark and Website

The FIU Women Faculty Book Club was founded in 1991 by Marilyn Hoder-Salmon and Judith Stiehm. In commemoration of the tenth anniversary of the Book Club, members decided to share their choices for good reading and collective discussion with other book lovers by publishing a bookmark listing 100 EXCELLENT BOOKS BY WOMEN. About 2000 bookmarks were distributed at local bookstores and libraries.

The titles, among them prize winners and classics, include fiction, biography, memoir and history by the likes of Isabelle Allende, FIU Creative Writing Prof. Lynne Barrett, Charlotte Bronte, Zora Neale Hurston, Ruth Reichl, Amy Tan and others. A website also was set up that features a suggested reading each month:

Women's Studies Student Travel

Donor contributions provided opportunities for travel to our students.

- International Criminal Court, United Nations Headquarters, New York City, September 2002. Mandy Ruscher wrote this about her experience: "I was possibly the youngest person in the entire building. [I worked] with a Non-Governmental Organization (NGO), the Independent Student Coalition, for the International Criminal Court. The experience was amazing and a complete inspiration for me to continue pursuing a career in diplomacy.... it allowed me to establish contacts with possible future colleagues and opened the door of the international community of the United Nations. I cannot thank Women's Studies enough for ...this opportunity."
- National Women's Studies Association (NWSA) conference, Las Vegas, June 2002. Thanks to our donors, Haana Ali and Anita Sachariah were able to attend professional conferences last year to present their work on "The Impact of Women's Studies on Minority Student Feminism." Shira Fisher also presented her work.
- Student Summit: Learning the Lessons from Social Movements, Miami, FL, February 21-23, 2003. Rachael Middleton and Tamara Persad were able to join this summit with funding from donors.

Campus Contributions to Women's Studies Activities

Women's Studies received co-sponsorships of $25,275 from the College of Arts & Sciences, Department of History, Student Government Association, International Relations, the WS Student Conference, and the Women's Center for a visiting faculty position and events.

Elaine Gordon Scholarship Endowment

The Elaine Gordon Scholarship Endowment was established in 1999 to honor the life and work of Elaine Gordon (1931-2000). Ms. Gordon was a pioneering feminist elected to the Florida House in 1972 who was a leading advocate on issues involving health care, mental health, children and women's reproductive rights. In 1982, she was one of the first six women inducted into the Florida Women's Hall of Fame in Tallahassee. After retiring from the legislature in 1994, Ms. Gordon worked for FIU as an Assistant Vice President until 1999.

More than $37,000 has been donated to the endowment by 125 donors. Their generous contribution makes it possible for one Women's Studies student to receive a scholarship each year. Recent donors are listed below.

Elaine Gordon Scholarship Donors, 2001 - 2003

Brian Gadinsky

Women's Studies donor Brian Gadinsky is the son of Elaine Gordon and has been a major contributor to the Elaine Gordon Scholarship in Women's Studies. Brian is an Emmy award winning producer who has served as Executive Producer of the USA Network original reality series Combat Missions; the original Producer of America's Most Wanted; and senior producer of the hit show American Gladiators.

Women's Studies donor Juanita Jacob served as Gordon's loyal aide for the 22 years Elaine Gordon served in the Florida House of Representatives.
